JULY FIRST TO BE LOMOND'S BIG DAY

Lomond Base Ball Club Planning Big Carnival of Sports

Season to be Opened with Big Whist Drive and Dance on April 30th.

Bob Plunkett to Make a Stump Speech

There is nothing more effective in creating fellowship between town and country as real live sport. The Lomond Base Ball Club is setting out to provide this in the 1920 season. The boys are fairly suffering expansion over the dose of optimism individually self contained, but along with this is a load of pep and common sense, so we hold full confidence for a successful season. The first obligation that presents itself is to revive the interest of the general public. To do this a big Whist and Five Hundred Drive, to be followed by a dance, will be held in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Friday evening, April 30th. The card playing will commence sharp at nine o'clock and continue for two and a half hours. Good music will be provided for dancing from then till the break-up. Supper will also be served. Another feature that the Ball Club is taking up is the holding of a Sports Day on the First of July. The idea is to make this the greatest gala day that Lomond has ever experienced. Real base ball, Boy Scout manoeuvres and all manner of sports are being arranged for. It seems a long time to look ahead but the time soon flies when we have a late spring. Keep July 1st. under your hat as Lomond's Big Day.

o o o

Inadvertently we failed to credit up T. E. Elliott in the last issue for being elected to the executive of the Lomond Base Ball Club. T. E. undertook to unload the responsibility by this but the boys compelled him to stay roped.

o o o

The Base Ball Club and the Agricultural Society will combine financial responsibilities in the building of a decent ball diamond.

REBEKAH CONCERT FRIDAY NIGHT

Primrose Rebekah Lodge, No. 61, is holding its much postponed concert and dance in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Friday evening coming—April 16th. A good musical program is being arranged, supplemented by selections from Miss M. Audrey Kerr, reader. Lunch will be served and admission to the entire affair, dance and all, is but $1.00 for adults and 25c for children.

Wm. A. Kirkhope of Seattle, administrator for the Dugald McArthur estate, is in town on business.

o o o

Miss Patterson, the teacher at First Chance School, went to Calgary for the convention during Easter week.

THE EDITOR'S NOTES

For several years Lomond has combined its sports program with the Agricultural Society affairs. This was perfectly all right in theory, but it caught the public at such a late date that the picnic spirit was pretty much worn out. Further, practically all the small town ball teams disband or start quarreling before the first of August and it has always been difficult to arrange an attractive program at a date so late. For this reason the Lomond Base Ball Club has already started in to make a big day out of July First. A successful sports day, instead of conflicting with the fair, will induce a greater attendance.

There has been a great deal of comment over recent dances owing to the lateness of the hour at which dancing commences and as a consequence, the lateness of the hour when people get home. Nine o'clock should afford the public plenty of time to assemble, but when a person goes once or twice and sits in an empty hall for an hour or two he usually tries to time his next arrival with the beginning of the music and dancing. It is an unfortunate habit and it is up to future dance committees to set things to right and to impress upon the public that such is going to be done. From nine to one-thirty is reasonable hours for celebration.

Coming from the post office the other day we overheard a jocular remark made by a certain man to the effect that "Eaton's catalogue should be kept out of sight or the editor would be giving him a write-up." We have no objection to the public receiving and studying all the catalogues in the country. In fact we would rather consider it good business. But, we do raise objection to the foolish policy some people pursue in their buying. For instance, ever so many people are buying catalogue garden seeds, when in most cases they could take their catalogue to any store and get their order filled without trouble or wait at exactly the same price. It so happens that the women are the great offenders. Their inherent instinct for frugality makes them an easy prey to the saucy of the catalogue. There unfortunate position in being closely confined to their out-of-the-way homes, in a great many cases, places the local store at a disadvantage in comparison with the mail order house.

Lomond Local U.F.W.A. held a very enjoyable whist drive and informal dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newton last Friday night. The same organization was sponsor to the successful dance held in the I.O.O.F. Easter Monday night. There were quite a few patrons from Travers in the crowd. The orchestra was delayed on the road and dancing was held up till quite late. Mrs. Maddison and Mr. Salter acted as an auxiliary when the hour grew late.

Jim Bell pulled in on Tuesday's train in anticipation of the opening of spring.

o o o

o o o

The song of the meadow lark, a few signs of green grass, a young rabbit and the northern migration of the ducks and geese would lead one to believe that spring was at hand, even against the evidence of snow and ice. Those newcomers who have never seen moisture in Sunny Alberta must surely be impressed by now. It seems odd to an outsider for everyone to be wading around through the water and mud, yet wearing a pleasant smile. It takes water to grow wheat and we all need the wheat.

o o o

Mr. Butterfield, a representative from the provincial health department, was in town this week conferring with the village council over the location of a new site for the nuisance grounds. The new site selected is on the south side of the Claude Blake quarter, a mile out on the south road. It is hoped that this will put an end to the vexatious question for all time to come—and there is immediate call for use of the grounds to retain the self respect of the people of the town.

The Hamilton Spectator says that the world is suffering more from the high cost of loafing than from the high cost of living.

Harping away on commercial economics, the S.E.P. contains an interesting article on the public's buying habits and their relation to the H. C. L. War prosperity has led the public to be insistent toward the high priced article, oft-times at the expense of quality and value. Frequently we have hear merchants state that the high priced articles are the ones that move most frequent. This state of affairs cannot hold. We must get down to a more substantial basis of buying than the mere gratification of vanity over being able to stand for the price without a quiver.

The Creed of the Great War Veterans Association

From the Calgary Herald.

1. We are the Great War Veterans of Canada.

2. We perpetuate the close and kindly ties of mutual service in the great war and preserve the memory of those who have suffered and died for the empire.

3. We ensure that proper provision is made for the sick, wounded and needy; and devote our energies to the care of the bereaved and dependents of our dead comrades, and particularly to their widows and orphans.

4. The membership of our association is cosmopolitan and includes in its ranks every possible occupation and walk of life. Our ideals and aims are to constantly inculcate loyalty to Canada and the empire, and unstinted service in their interests. We impress upon our children the necessity of showing at all times the same spirit of service, sacrifice and loyalty which was our duty and privilege whilst soldiers.

5. We are the great war veterans and have, by every human sacrifice, won the confidence and sympathy of the people of our beloved Canada, and claim that we be deemed worthy to participate in making the future laws of our dominion, our provinces and our municipalities.

6. We require of those within our fold to bear their full share of civic responsibility. As returned citizen soldiers it is imperative that our services be enrolled for our country's welfare. Our ideals are for better citizenship from our members, and a better community through their efforts.

7. We are the great war veterans and have a profound understanding of the responsibilities which devolve on us in seeking to assume our share of the load which has to be borne by those who render unselfish service to their fellow citizens.

8. Any candidates whom we endorse for civic honors will be required by us at all times to render a strict accountability of their stewardship to the citizens generally.

9. We are the great war veterans, and stand solid for the referendum and recall, and can only support in public office those whose sacred service is fearlessly devoted to the public welfare and who will be required to resign if found wanting in the highest type of representation for which they are elected.

God Save the King.

To Members of the Great War Veterans Association and Members of the Army and Navy Veterans. Gentlemen,—

In referring to the creed of the G. W. V. A. it would be well for every member to study sections 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 especially. The pendulum has swung in the direction I had the honor to advocate to then deaf ears in the latter part of 1917. I have always felt that it was meant that your association would be called upon to throw its whole weight into the post war policies of this great dominion at the termination of hostilities, but unfortunately the power and machinery was not built up at a time which was very opportune. We see the result of failure to do so now, when we hear of the thousands of men lying idle in the larger centers of the country. Had the association been prepared no such treatment would have been meted out to the delegates on the suggested war bonus scheme. Instead, the possibilities are pressure would have been so brought to bear on the federal government as would either have forced resignation from office or else called for a dominion wide plebiscite on that and other questions. There is no question but what you have lived up to sections 2, 3 and 4 of the creed, but to ensure success in every way you must obtain the power to put into effect section 5. Your past conduct shows that after obtaining that power you will see that 6, 7, 8 and 9 are complied with. I ask, can you ever reach the limit of your aspirations by simply remaining a sentimental factor in the life of this great dominion of ours? I say positively, no! The glamour of war in all its aspects is a thing of the past, and those whose only patriotic feelings and actions were based on the correct thing to do at the time, will be the first to look after the requirements of those who are most entitled to consideration. The ever rising high cost of living and the subsequent unrest of labor must be counteracted by sane legislation, and the ever occurring problems must be met four square and dealt with without procrastination, for the future prospects of this great dominion were never rosier. The axis upon which our country revolves is capital, management, labor and the community. I would dwell on the word community, as community represents the consumer who-soever he may be, and it is he who consumes the product of industry, and the money he pays for what he consumes reimburses capital for its advances and ultimately provides the wages, salaries and profits that are distributed among the parties concerned. I would instance Henry Ford's large industrial concern—well organized, waste eliminated, laborers paid the highest wages, and the consuming public on whose patronage the concern evolves, enjoying in normal years declining prices for the product, the owners in their turn realizing larger profits through a greater turnover. Gentlemen, I recommend these few remarks to you with all modesty, being an ex-member of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces from 1914 to 1916. I can see eye to eye with you on the aims of your association. I know there are now many who will agree with me when I say that the time is now at hand, even at it was so in 1917, when you must acquire wider and broader powers to effect these reforms which your association set out to ultimately bring about. Those who can speak let them speak and get busy, and those whose actions are silent let them put their shoulder behind the big wheel. This country must by force of circumstance and through its geographical position go ahead. Let us be those who in years to come will be known as the pathfinders in our generation.

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
C. Willmott Maddison,
Late Corporal 34th. Fort Garry Horse,
C. E. F.
